

I have long been anticipating XM Radio's traffic and weather channel here in the Miami area, now only to hear you are opposed to it. With traffic conditions as they are here, it would be a huge asset to be able to dial in to the traffic channel to learn real-time about traffic jams I may be approaching rather than tuning to a local AM station hoping they might broadcast the conditions before I get fully caught in the traffic jam. Please reconsider your thoughts about blocking this valuable service.